ABOUT ME

I am a Lecturer in the Department of Anatomy and Histology at Habiganj Agricultural University, Bangladesh. I hold a DVM degree from Patuakhali Science and Technology University and an MS in Anatomy from Bangladesh Agricultural University, where I received the prestigious Presidential Gold Medal Award. Passionate about research and teaching, my expertise spans morphology, histopathology, neuroscience, and immunology. Dr. Yousup is actively involved in outreach activities, including farm consultancy and veterinary practice, and has participated in numerous national and international workshops and conferences. I am seeking a PhD opportunity to advance his career in veterinary science.
