● ABOUT MYSELF

I am DR. Shadia Tasnim, currently serving as a lecturer in the Section of Pathology within the Department of Paraclinical Sciences at Habiganj Agricultural University, Bangladesh. I obtained my Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) degree from Bangladesh Agricultural University, followed by a Master of Science (MS) in Pathology from the same institution. I possess a profound passion for research and education, with expertise encompassing necropsy, histopathology, and molecular biology. DR. Tasnim is actively engaged in outreach initiatives and has participated in numerous national and international workshops and conferences. I am pursuing a PhD opportunity to further advance my career in veterinary science.
